

Sports Society

The Sports Society is an umbrella for the different sports related activities and will be classified as clubs when formed. The overall vision and mission have been included in the application pack.

Eligible students:

- Any provisionally or fully enrolled student provided that:
  - A Leader must be a member of the Club and a student at Bloomsbury Institute
  - The student would not have been in this office more than twice.

The Leader is expected to facilitate the smooth running of the Society and Clubs, ensuring that these aims and objectives are adhered to and members' voices are heard effectively.

The Leader is also expected to steer new agendas that will benefit society and work with the Assistant Leader to achieve these initiatives.

Role and responsibilities:

- To be directly accountable to the Student Guild
- To adhere to the Mission and Vision of the Society
- To be responsible for promoting the Society to students throughout campus
- To maintain close relationships with relevant external contacts and organizations
- To liaise with other societies to ensure that there is a coherent front and create synergy among student members
- To be responsible for ensuring that all relevant information about the Society's activities, facilities and services are regularly and effectively communicated to relevant members
- To promote and attend relevant meetings or events organized by the Society
- To attend and promote any relevant event organized by Bloomsbury Institute
- To attend and arrange meetings as and when required
- To be actively involved with the Student Guild activities, especially the annual celebration
- Commit to eliminating any unlawful discrimination and promoting equality of opportunity for all members
- To raise awareness of issues that may affect the Society

- To uphold good practice and champion the Student Guild within the immediate and wider community
- To maintain confidentiality where required and to safeguard member data.

Benefits of the Role

Sport Society Leader

- By being an active and engaged Society Leader, you will be exposed to some level of input within the Guild. You will learn or develop skills such as formal meeting process, presenting and discussing ideas, negotiation and debating to name just a few
- You should gain a great sense of satisfaction that your place within the Guild really achieved something – contributing to the development and success of the Guild
- Having a great thing to put on your CV – it will demonstrate to potential employers that you have had exposure to some level of formal decision-making within a structured and professional organization.
- Leaders will be the principal officer of their respective society (or Club/Group) – effectively. We envisage the Leader roles to work very closely and as a real team. An Assistant Leader would also automatically assume the role of Leader if the Leader stepped down during their term of office.
